Eighth Engineers Lose Several; 5th Cavalrymen Are Drenched.

Marching to Cloudcroft for their "vacation," the eighth engineers lost nine horses from the herd, most of them dying south of Alamogordo. The fifth cavalry lost a mule at Alamogordo, but a soldier found an old one in the park that had been poisoned from the village water cart and rode him off.

The unit that went up last week will return to El Paso this week, beginning their march home on Thursday.

The seventh cavalry and troops E and M of the fifth, now guarding Fort Bliss, will then go up for a tour of 15 days.

Col. J. J. Harbrough, commander of the fifth cavalry, went up Saturday to inspect the camp of the men, returning today. Mrs. Harbrough accompanied him.

On the way up to the mountains, the fifth cavalry was caught in a heavy rain at Alamogordo and the camp was flooded. San Clemente's men lost all his "boiled shirts" and most of his uniform equipment, which floated off in the water. He is at Cloudcroft patiently awaiting the dispatch of more clothes. The men had to take refuge in the water, and the coaches and any available housing space to escape the rain.

The outfit, which will return this week, include the fifth cavalry, except the first squadron (in the Big Bend district) and troops E and M of Fort Bliss, the eighth engineers, mounted, a detachment of the seventh field signal battalion, ambulance company No. 16, and park train No. 1.

WILL EXCHANGE UNIVERSITY MEN

Texas, Arizona and California Universities Will Exchange With Mexico.

Exchange of instructors and students between the University of Texas and the National University of Mexico was arranged at a conference held recently in Austin, Texas, between Dr. Jose N. Macias, president, respectively, of the two institutions. According to present plans and immediate exchange of five students between the two institutions and a later exchange of instructors is under contemplation. Dr. P. Montano and Dr. Guillermo F. Hall, director of the Mexican trade bureau at San Antonio, were also present at the conference. It was learned at the conference that the board of regents at the university has authorized president Villson to make a trip to Mexico City to bring back six Mexican students for education at the University of Texas. In the course of his explanation of the work of the National University of Mexico, Dr. Macias said: "The educated classes of Mexico are the friends of America and Dr. Hall will tell you that when the San Antonio trade excursion visited our country some weeks ago, they were everywhere welcomed by crowds of Mexicans in the warmest of friendship."

Among the policies adopted by Dr. Macias was the teaching of English in all the professional colleges of the university. The policy has also been established of accepting degrees conferred by American universities as equal with degrees conferred by the Mexican university and the effort has been made to bring the work of that institution so that its degrees would take equal rank with degrees of American universities.

Dr. Macias said the National University of Mexico has 4000 students, and is composed of several colleges scattered over Mexico City. Dr. Macias has also visited the University of California and the University of Arizona on his trip through the southwestern and western parts of the United States, and has arranged similar exchange of students and instructors between these institutions and the Mexican university. At the University of Arizona the honorary degree of doctor of laws was conferred upon Dr. Macias.

PORTIONS OF MEXICO'S NEW MINING LAW ARE DISCLOSED

Washington, D. C., July 21.—The state department has made public portions of the new Mexican mining law of interest to Americans owning mining interests in Mexico, and which went into effect July 1.

The transitional provisions provide that pending due on mining properties prior to the date of the decree, June 1, 1918, are hereby null and void, and mining claims must be paid during July and August of this year. Provisions are made for the payment of instalments of the taxes overdue, but if the new law is not complied with the title of the property will be forfeited to the state.

The new decree also prohibits export of gold, and provides that if bars mixed with ore, which include gold are imported, valuable gold must be reimported into the country in quantity equivalent to the gold contained in the mixed bars.

The tax rates applied to the mining industry are graduated so that the larger the copper producing fields the tax proportionately.

Promises Good Car Service To High School

Plenty of Cars Assured For Special Occasions and For Night School.

Plans for the building of the new high school car line by the electric street railway company are assuming definite form. A petition of the street railway company to the city council seeking to obtain a franchise to build the line was presented by Alha H. Warren, manager of the street railway company. As proposed in the franchise, the company will build a line on High street from Oregon street to a point 150 feet east of Virginia street and will intersect the Mesa car line at Oregon street.

The proposed franchise will grant the street railway company the right to build a line the entire length of high street, but a special provision requires the company to construct on to the northeast corner of the school building. Extensions to the line will be built when the city council thinks the need justifies such extensions, according to the provisions of the franchise.

An efficient car service to meet all traffic requirements to and from the high school is promised by the electric street railway company. This includes the morning and afternoon periods of every week day, night travel for night school and special times when entertainments are given at the high school auditorium or stadium.
